

HURRICANE TRACKING MAP

Use the grid on the map and the latest announced coordinates to plot a storm's location. The latitude scale is along the side; longitude is along the bottom. Jot down the coordinates and find where they intersect on the map. Make a dot on the map to follow the storm's track.

Source: This is a reduced portion of the chart used to track hurricanes at the National Hurricane Center.